ARRANGING TO GET RAINMAKER IN THIS DISTRICT

Largely Attended Meeting of Farmers Decided to Sign Contract—Will Cover Large Area With This District as Centre—Arrangements Now Under Way.

At a largely attended meeting of farmers held at Medicine Hat last Friday afternoon, when it was known as the United Agricultural Association, was formed. The primary object of forming this organization was to consider the advisability of entering into a contract with Rainmaker Hatfield to operate in this district during the coming summer. After the details were explained by Mr. H. Hatfield, who, as E. Bedard, of Deep Springs, were appointed to represent the country around Redcliff.

Telling of his recent trip to California, on which he had obtained the contract with Hatfield, Mr. Hatfield explained that the rainmaker had absolutely made good in the United States, his work being such as would convince the most skeptical. He further stated that he had operated it was agreed that he had been successful.

A contract was presented and adopted by the meeting, and it was decided that Hatfield's plant be located at Chapin Lake.

The matter of financing the project was referred to the executive committee as well as also the selection of locations for the rain gauges which this rainmaker will utilize.

The following is a copy of the contract entered into:

Said Hatfield hereby agrees to construct and build a rain maker and attraction plant as a favorable site to be chosen by him for his operation.

Said plant to be kept in constant operation from the first day of May, 1921, to the first day of August, 1921, in the endeavor to bring about the largest possible increase in precipitation over and about that portion of Alberta, Canada, and section of territory at least one hundred miles radius with the city of Medicine Hat, Alberta, as a centre.

THIS MOVING PICTURES.

There appears to be quite an agitation on the present time, throughout Canada in condemnation of the class of pictures being shown in the moving picture theatres in all parts of the country. If this agitation is carried on successfully and all concerned take the interest in the movement they should, there is no doubt that much good will come of it. In the solution of the problem the patrons of the movies as well as the producers of plays have an important part to play.

There is not the slightest doubt that the class of pictures being shown in the average theatre is going from bad to worse from month to month. At the present it appears to be the aim and object of actors and picture producers to see how near they can come to the vulgar and suggestive and still get by the censors. Rough stuff, gun play and scenes in questionable resorts, also form a large part in the average picture thrown on the canvas nowadays, until now the wonder is that some such agitation had not been started long ago. The effect of this class of pictures on the young mind of the country is not conducive to the best results in our rising manhood and womanhood, mentally, morally or intellectually.

With the many opportunities which the moving picture have for improving the young educationally as well as along the lines above mentioned it is a pity that they should be used to work in the opposite direction.

The remedy for this condition of affairs is not so much in the hands of the theatre managers as in those of the picture producers, the censors and the general public. Theatre managers are largely at the mercy of the producers and often have to take what is dished up. The fault lies first with the producer for turning out this class of pictures; secondly with the censors for letting them get by, and lastly with the general public for patronizing them.

The general decline in the price of several lines of commodities, brought about by a general buying strike, shows that the public can do when they make up their minds. The same applies in this case.

SOLUTION TO PROBLEM.

In political circles there is great speculation as to what will be the outcome of the vacancy in this constituency caused by the death of our late representative, Hon. A. L. Sifton, and also as to his successor in the cabinet.

The matter should be easily solved if the object is to continue the Union idea throughout the life of the present administration. Why not let the election here answer both questions at once. This could be done by securing an government candidate for this constituency in the bye-election one who could take Mr. Sifton's place both as member of the constituency and member of the government. To make this possible, and to carry out the Union idea, this candidate would necessarily have to be a Liberal, favorable to Union government and of cabinet caliber. It should be an easy matter to get a man of this stamp.

Ontario is now in need of six hundred school teachers and the Toronto Globe suggests a revision of the idea of the public regarding salaries as a means of improving the situation. Ontario's minister of education is working harmoniously with the Teachers Alliance and as a result no serious trouble is anticipated.

Dog Teams on
1,000-Mile Journey

Five crack Canadian mounted police dog teams have left Dawson on a thousand-mile Arctic march. They will travel 800 miles directly north through the wilderness and snow and over the Rocky mountain divide to Fort Macpherson, at the mouth of the Mackenzie river, and return. They are expected back at the beginning of March, bringing the first advice of the winter from the Fort Norman oil fields and from Arctic explorers and whalers frozen in along the northern edge of the continent.

Unemployment in U.S.
Worse Than Year Ago

Persons in the United States employed in industry January last numbered 3,473,646 less than a year ago and the department of labor's employment service announced on the basis of the first nationwide survey.

Director J. E. Denham said this figure does not represent the number of persons actually unemployed, as it is a figure quite possible some had found employment in agricultural or other pursuits not covered by the survey.

On the other hand, some officials believed the army of unemployed was larger, as no effort was made to ascertain the reduction of persons employed in pursuits other than those covered under "mechanical industry."

The Progress of Manitoba

(1) On the left the Royal Alexandra Hotel, Winnipeg, and on the right a portion of the C. P. R. Station Building, (2) Fort Garry, Winnipeg.—A plate on the wall, presented by Winnipeg Canadian Club, tells its story.

There is an Indian legend of a race of people who dwelt upon the Canadian Prairies before the Red River came, but why they remained who they were was not known. Vanishing they did and their place was taken by wandering tribes of Indians who hunted and fished, built their wigwags and their camp-fires, told their wild legends and smoked their peace-pipes for many a generation before the foot of the white man ever reached the plains that were their heritage.

The first discoverer of Manitoba was the ill-fated Henry Hudson, exactly 310 years ago. Others followed in his steps. Presently came the adventurer, de Grouville, who after exploring out the land, went back to England, where, with Radisson, his companion, and under the auspices of Prince Rupert, he obtained large grants of land from Charles II, and founded that Hudson's Bay Company which was destined to play so great a part in the future history of Canada.

During the one hundred odd years that intervened between that time and 1812, the story of the Hudson's Bay Company is the story of Manitoba. The years are filled with the treaties with the Indians, the deals with rival companies and its usurpation of all the trade of the vast country over which it ruled, for the most part, unchallenged. Of its rise, the most important was the North-West Fur Company. It was the contest between these two companies and many a skirmish, was fought between bands of their adventurers, until 1817 the two companies were united and peace followed.

Early in 1812, however, Lord Selkirk, after buying a controlling interest in the stock of the Hudson's Bay Company, obtained from the crown in the shape of 15,000 square miles of Red River territory, between the present international boundaries and James Winnipeg and Winnipegosis. This land he proceeded to colonize with settlers from the Scottish Highlands. The colony grew and flourished. About 1820 the population of Red River was 1,200. In 1822 the Council of Assiniboia was organized to govern the colony and Fort Garry (now Winnipeg) was built.

From this time on the history of Manitoba is one of growing prosperity, broken only by the first rebellion of 1869 and 1870. To Sir Edmund Head, Governor-General of Canada in 1869, is due the fact that Manitoba was transferred into the Dominion. In 1869 the Hudson's Bay Company, of which he was a director, transferred back to England, in consideration of a sum of $200,000, the lands which it had received from her some two hundred years before. England transferred the territory and the debt of $15,000,000 to the young Dominion of Canada and on June 17th, 1870, Manitoba became a Province of that Dominion, taking her place among her sisters under the Lieutenant-Governorship of Adam G. Archibald. In 1873 she elected her first Premier, Hon. H. J. Gault.

Manitoba has always been a great cattle raising province. It has besides this the possession of many other sources of wealth. In the valleys are now known as Northern Manitoba she has mineral deposits of great value, water power to develop immense power, fisheries capable of yielding large returns, fur-bearing animals innumerable and much good land available for the hardier crops. The climate in the northern part of Manitoba is extreme and healthy. Up to 1870 the history of education in Manitoba is largely written in the brave efforts of the Church, both Catholic and Protestant. In the beginning of the Provincial era there were 33 parish schools in operation, but in 1870 the number of schools had grown to 55. Last year there were 1,350 teachers and 115,000 pupils in the public and high schools of the Province.

It is a far cry from the old trading post of Fort Garry to the big, modern city of Winnipeg. Fifty years ago this city was a mere village of only a couple of hundred people. Main street was only a primitive trail. There was no school, no railway, no telegraph connection with the outside world; no banks, except that the Hudson's Bay Company accepted deposits and issued paper money of its own; and property owners paid no taxes. But after 1870 the place began to grow. Three years afterwards it had a population of over 2,000, and in 1874 it became an incorporated city, with P. E. Cornish, a lawyer, as first Mayor.

In 1880 the building of the C.P.R. east and west from Winnipeg was begun and in 1885 the first through train from Montreal arrived in the city. Now the C.P.R. freight yards at Winnipeg are the largest in the world. Winnipeg's growth has been steady and solid. In the period just before the war Winnipeg's population had increased to 151,375 and her agricultural and industrial production for the year 1919 was $22,000,000. She is now the third city in Canada and the fifth colony, begun by Radisson and his fellow adventurers, is now a great and flourishing city of the wide Dominion, whose name is known in all lands.—From the Manitoba Free Press.

According to an old sign we will have no more severe winter weather ahead of us. Yesterday was Candlemas day, the day that the ground is supposed to come out. According to the old story if the ground does not see his shadow on that morning when he first comes out the winter is over and he stays out. Any groundhogs around these parts could not see his shadow yesterday morning, as there was no snow shining.

We understand that arrangements are being made to hold a convention of all supporters of the present government at Ottawa, for the federal constituency of Medicine Hat. Although no date has been definitely decided upon as yet it is probable it will be held at Medicine Hat on March 4th. Good music, good food, a good supper and the best time you ever had accompanied if you come to Reid's hall Feb. 20.

Mrs. Schutte will hold her usual weekly dancing class on Reid's hall on Saturday afternoon commencing at 7 o'clock. Any wishing to join the class should call at this time.

A fairly good crowd attended the dance given in Reid's hall last Friday evening under the auspices of the White Light orchestra. The music was excellent and those present had a thoroughly enjoyable evening.

Last Friday evening Miss Duffield entertained the members of the young people's class in connection with the Presbyterian church to a taffy pull. The guests met at the church and after finishing the pull, games of various kinds were indulged in and a musical program rendered. On Tuesday evening this class met again and had as their guests the members of the Teen Age Boys' class. As these two classes now form the choir in the church for the morning service, next time the time was taken up practicing for next Sunday's service.

Short Course in

Potato Culture

A short course in potato culture and raising for potato growers will be given by the University of Alberta, Edmonton, 8th to 11th, inclusive. This course is given in response to the many enquiries coming from the potato growers of the province, and as a part of the educational program carried out during the winter by the Edmonton District Potato Producers' Association. The potato crop is more and more assuming an important position as a field crop in Alberta, with the result that the University is giving it the attention its importance deserves. The lectures and demonstrations given during this short course will be a large measure based upon investigation work carried on by the Department of Field Husbandry during the past three seasons.

Labor Men Want

Trade With Russia

Immediate trade intercourse between Canada and Russia, on the highest basis, was favored unanimously at a session of the provincial convention in Halifax of the Independent Labor party. The resolution recommending such a step set forth the preamble that the party believed Canada to be in a position to manufacture large quantities of machinery, of which Russia is in need and that the Dominion is in "great need of many of the raw products Russia has to export."

MONEY IN TREE-BULBS

Farmers of British Columbia are making good use of their cottonwood trees, recent experiments having proven that the buds of the local species are equal in cotton content to those of the foreign species, and the gathering of these buds promises to develop into a thriving industry in certain parts of the province. But few are engaged yet, but it is expected that an exhaustive summary of the cottonwood area will reveal a field for a large volume of employment. Farmers are receiving fifty cents a bushel for the buds and they have been shipped by the carload to manufacturing druggists in Eastern Canada.

U.S. Emergency Tariff Still being Discussed

The Forney Emergency Tariff Bill awaiting action in the senate has begun to resemble a wooden chip under a barnacle infested sea. Every day sees encumbrances added to it both by its opponents and its friends, and the bill began to see visions of its sinking beneath the waves from the weight imposed. The latest acquisitions to the bill in the form of amendments appeared in the proposals to place an import duty on sunflower seed and on salt.
